"INDIVIDUALITY TO UNITY"

They thought that we were young unto our years.

"The task," they said, "will never be complete."

We set about to faulting all their fears;

To set the pretty pieces at their feet.

And though we were each one within our heads

And different from another in the face,

The barriers created soon were shed

In favor of a newer-happier grace.

So now our task is finally called complete.

We've learned to work and laugh and cry as one.

We set the pretty pieces at their feet.

And soon, as we, they knew the job was done.

Each member cannot do this on his own,

If, like a jewel, the art is set to last

With inner talents given as a loan

The hands of all must join to make it fast.

The Taunton High School Student Council is becoming more and more active each year in affairs relative to student interests in the school. We attempt to work hand in hand with the administration in achieving the goals of the student body. In this day of change we advocate evolution rather than revolution in matters pertinent to school policy.

THE YEARBOOK STAFF SINCERELY THANKS . . .

Mr. Januse, our advisor, for keeping us under control.

Dodge-Murphy, our photographers, for our senior pictures.

Mr. McGuirk, our friend, for the Tauton-Coyle football game pictures.

Mr. Aleixo, our principal, for his co-operation during the days organization pictures were taken.

The faculty of Taunton High for allowing us take candids of them and their classes.

All the students who helped us.

September 1967 — We were so terrified that first day. Gradually, we learned and became involved. We made friends.

September 1968 — We were sophomores and it felt great to know our way around the school. We sympathized with the freshmen. We envied the juniors.

September 1969 — This was the year. So much happened. We received our class rings — gold or black. We had our junior prom: "A Time for Us". A memory.

SEPTEMBER 1970

Finally, and with regret, we are seniors.

We are older.

All of us are planning our future.

We must separate as a unit and seek our individuality.

These four years are a memory pressed between these pages.

Tears.
